PRINCE ALERT PACES A QUARTER OF A MILE IN THIRTY SECONDS. And Finishes the Round in 2:02, the Pastest Mile of the Year in Harness-Anaconda Only a Nech Behind the Hoppied Gelding -Last Day of Cleveland's Big Meet.

CLEVELAND, July 28.—The coming together of Anaconda and Searchlight, both with a record of 2:03%, for the fir t time this season in the 2:04 pace, scheduled for this a ternoon, had much interest attached to it at the Grand Circuit races. When the betting crowd arrived at the track for the early morning auctions they were much disappointed to find that Search-light had been drawn. Just about this same time "Knap" McCarthy was working the son of Darknight and stepped him a mile in 2:05%. This dispelled the rumors that the horse had lost his form, and it was soon explained that those in control were adverse to a record which would put him out of the 2:04 class, since it was plain that the winner to-day would be comrelied to do that very thing. The Searchlight people brought out Indiana, who had also been named, and thus were enabled to suit their own convenience about starting the star of the ruling odds being: Anaconda, $100; field, with only Prince Alert and Indiana, $40. Anaconda had not had a race this year and made an unexpected bad break a few lengths beyond the wire after they got the word. Nor did he act steady during the scoring. The break put him about a double distance behind the other two, and when he struck a pace was compelled to and when he struck a pace was compelled to travel near a two-minute clip for three-quarters of the mile to beat the fl.g. Prince Alert jogged under the wire in 2:08, a couple of lengths in front of Indiana. It was now thought that Anaconda was not up to a race and the fleid end sold a trifle better than the favorite. The odds were about $55 to $60. They got away well for the second round, Anaconda acting well. Molienry pursued his old tacting of trailing keeping, how the favorite. The odds were about $30 to $30. They got away well for the second round, Anaconda acting well. Molienry pursued his old tactics of trailing, keeping, however, quite close up. Prince Alert led to the quarter in 0.30, half in 1.04% and three-quarters in 1.31%. When they got headed home MoHenry swung out and made a dest erate effort to getto the side of the hoppied gelding and at the drawgate was at his side. Ben Walker, however, kept the son of Crown Prince going in a manner altogether unexpected under this tremendous pressure, and when he finished a scant neck in front in 2.02 the enthusiasm of the spectators was almost unbounded. This is the lastest mile for the year and all the more remarkable since the same horse was second in the next fastest heat and race here on last Tuesday, which was in the record-breaking 2.06 pace, when he forced Coney to his record of 2.02%. Johnny Agan and Janes R. divided horse in the betting in the 2.13 pace, each bringing $50. The other three starters fetched only $40. The first named won in the shortest possible order without apparent effort and entered the 2.10 list in the fluid round. There was considerable betting on the field of trotters in the 2.18 closs. Palm Leaf, Senator K. and Archie W., who were ranked first, second and third, were in it alone after five hard rounds, all being heat winners. Archie W. proved the best in the end, however, having gone easy in the early part of the contest, and landed the money at the end of the seventh heat.

vator and Dr. Fitzsimmons, by Bon, were the only starters. The latter is also owned by W. G. Gilmore of West Babylon. They started off well and went at a lively clip to the quarter, which they reached, neck and neck. Ellavator then suddenly stumbled and fell heavily, pinning Gilmore to the ground. The young man did not lose his head, though the horse struggled and kicked furiously, and he finally extricated himself from his perilous position. Dr. Fitzsimmons was ridden by Frank Candee.

Some good racing was pulled off despite the accident, and the New York Speedway favorites performed well. Robert Bartlett's mare Tera G. was scheduled to trot against Frank D. Creamer's horse, but the latter did not materialize, so Mr. Hendrickson drove Tera G. an exhibition half-mile in 1:13. Summaries:

NO FIGHTING AT PLUSHING. Police Prevent Several Bouts and Aristo-

FLUSHING, July 28 .- Sports of Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens gathered at the Broad-way Lyceum to-night to witness what was ad-vertised extensively as "Forty Rounds of Boxing." Jack McDermott of Long Island City and Mike Donohue of Brooklyn were to meet for ten rounds at 105 pounds Another ten-round bout at 160 pounds was scheduled between Tom Gearin of Whitestone and Ernest Lane of Colege Point, while George Clare of Long Island Giv and ton O'Brien of Manhattan were to try conclusions at 145 pounds in a twenty-round affair.

But aristocratic Flushing raised a howl. Her people would not allow an exhibition of the kind to go on unless some protest was made. The police were appealed to, and as a result of it Capt. Wohlfarth of the local preclinet notified Manager Mayer of the Lyceum that under no circumstances would the bouts be permitted to be held. The bouts were to be under the auspices of the Eldridge Athletic Club of Long Island City. This club does not hold forth in the Lyceum, where the bouts were to have been held, and, accordingly, the police felt justified in ordering that no fights be pulled off. And aristocratic Flushing was glad. Another ten-round bout at 160 pounds was

Gans Will Fight McGovern. Winner to Take

BALTIMORE, July 28 -Al Herford was one of the most surprised men in this city when he read in the papers to-day that Sam Harris had named conditions for a bout between Terry McGovern and Joe Gans. Herford expressed himself as willing to agree to them, and hopes for a match before Sept. 1. The Baitimore manager, match before Sept. 1. The Baltimore manager, however, is not pleased at the intimation that the colored boxer is anxious to fight shy of the clause "winner take ali."

"Why, that just suits me," said Herford. "Gans is not the least bit afraid of Terry, and will sign to-morrow on the conditions named, with the winner to take ali."

Herford will be at the ringside when McFadden and O'Brien fight, and will be ready to close negotiations for a match between Terry and his protégé. He is not at all confident that he will have smooth sailing in bringing matters to an end. He believes that the run-in between Gans and Terry some time ago at training quarters taught the Brooklyn wonder a little bit of wisdom, which is apt to make him fight shy of Gans. It is rumored that Terry was "all up in the air" at that time and vowed he never would box the colored lightweight.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

MRS. BAYNE ON THE TWENTY-FIRST DAY OF HER LONG JOURNEY.

Has Regun Her Thirtieth Century on the Course at Valley Stream—League Officials Go Scorching and Have a High Old Time at the Marine and Field Club-Notes.

Mrs. Bayne stuck to her text pluckily al Friday night and yesterday, with the result that she completed 2,900 miles at 7 o'clock last night. This made 300 miles she had ridden since Thursday night. From her twenty-sixth century she planned to ride a "quadrupl." to 3,000 miles by Sunday in order to get up to and ahead of her schedule. She finished her twenty-eighth century at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and after the twenty-ninth last nigat she started off again. It was then expected that she would finish her thirtieth century at midnight. Yesterday was her twenty-first day of riding. There is a notion strong in many minds that prominent in the sport do not really ride a wheel. This probably has been created and certainly fostered by some race promoters of corpulent build who do not and never did ride and have no real interest in the sport. but play the game for "what there is in it." Whatever the cause the idea exists. There is, however, no foundation for it in connection with the leaders of the League of American Wheelmen in this State. At a weekly meeting of the Executive Committee of the State division held early in July Chief Consul Milo M. Belding, who is chairman of the committee, invited his colleagues to hold their next meetinvited his colleagues to hold their next meeting at the Marine and Field Club, Bath Beach, and incidentally be his guests there at dinner. It was agreed to wheel to the club, which is one of the most exclusive in the greater city and has a special house for the accommodation of wheels. The meeting and dinner was held last Wednesday night, and it was replete with incidents. The start was made in Brooklyn, with the Chief Consul and C.-B. Obermayer on a tandem and Waiter M. Meserole, John B. Uhle and Dr. L. C. Le Roy on singles, John B. Clark, Secretary-Tressurer, and H. B. Fullerton reached the rendezvous separately. Of the seven who sat down there were only two who were not gray haired, four wore spectacles and two were past 50 years of age. Torrents of rain began to fall just as the party began to eat, but they remained on the plazza and throughout the dinner the talk was of the trip, of wheels, gears, cranks, conster brakes and L. A. W. affairs. It was related by Meserole that he never before knew there were girls employed in the building opposite his offices on Montague street until the party started from there. This and the fall of a boy backward over a curb in State street were circumstances blanned to a sight of the "pnaumatics," which is the popular name for the calves of the Chief Consul. It was applied because it was at first sight easier to believe them inflated than solid, as they are. Going down the Coney Island path and Twenty-second avenue it was a "scorch" all the way. Near Eighteenth avenue a serious smash-up with a wheelman of uncertain mind who turned and re-turned was narrowly averted. At the finish on Cropsey avenue Dr. Le Roy was still holding the tandem, while Uhle and Merserole were keeping company far behind. The tandem wound up with a flourish at the end of Twenty-second avenue by running up a bank 'and upsetting its passengers, on account of one of the gray-haired bicycle boys stealing another's hat and trying to bang it on a water hydrant. At the dinner table a decided liking for high ing at the Marine and Field Club, Bath Beach, and incidentally be his guests there at dinner.
